Six-Months-Old Baby Died Enroute; Official Reception Sunday at 4 P. M.

A long and tiresome journey for 984 European war refugees, representing a cosmopolitan group of 19 nationalities ranging in age from three months to 80 years, made homeless and penniless by the great war, ended in their arrival at Fort Ontario this morning where they will live for the duration of hostilities as guests of the United States in accordance with an executive order made by President Roosevelt nearly two months ago. ... completely equipped during the last two weeks and will be conducted under the direction of a WRA doctor and a full complement of nurses and orderlies. Among the sick were 10 litter cases and a woman whose condition is said to be critical.

The task of checking in the refugees moved rather slowly at first, but after a while the work was better organized and it went along more rapidly.

The services of a large group of boys had been procured by the WRA to assist the refugees in handling their luggage. After being checked in, the refugees were escorted to a baggage checking post and after being relieved of their luggage they were taken directly to the mess halls where breakfast was served.

After that they were assigned to their quarters, which had been designated in advance, in the 20 or more buildings which had been converted into apartments for them.

Mr. Smart, director of the shelter, and key men and women of the administrative staff directed affairs in connection with the assignment of refugees to their quarters and the transfer of the sick to the hospital. [illegible]

Refreshments will follow.

It had been announced that the Oswego Independent Drum and Bugle Corps would participate in the program. Harold Leroy, leader, announced today that because of conditions beyond their control, the musical organization would not appear.

CPL. L. B. MURRAY OF MARINE CORPS SUFFERS WOUNDS

Injured in Action, Parents Informed; Was in South Pacific Area.

Cpl. Lindley B. Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Murray, RD 4, East River Road, was wounded in action on July 4, his parents were advised Saturday by military authorities.

The telegram did not indicate the theatre of operations in which the Oswego man was wounded, but as he is serving with the U. S. Marines, it is believed he has been in action in the South Pacific area.

The telegram advising Mr. and Mrs. Murray that their son, a former Oswego High athlete, is a casualty was signed by Lt. Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, commanding the U. S. Marine Corps.

Cpl. Murray enlisted in the Marines on December 18, 1942 and was assigned to Parris Island, S. C. for his boot training. He later served at Camp Lejeune, New River, N. C. and Camp Pendleton, Calif. He went overseas in December, 1943 and has been serving in the South Pacific.

He played football, baseball and basketball at High school in 1940 and 1941. Cpl. Murray has a brother, Emory O. Murray who is in training with a tank destroyer unit at North Camp Hood, Texas.

LOW-PRICED MOTORS ON EXCHANGE IN DEMAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Buyers again took on sizable blocks of low-priced motors in today's stock market but, while scattered pivotals attracted modest bids, many issues failed to climb out of the losing rut.

Trends improved selectively after a somewhat easier opening although near-closing quotations remained rather jumbled in a fractional range. Single transactions running to several thousand shares for Graham-Paige, which again was the liveliest performer at a 1944 top, helped get the two-hour volume at around 300,000 shares.

RULES TO FOLLOW TO PREVENT POLIO

City Health Officer Urges Caution, Says No Cases In This Section.

There are no cases of poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis, as it is more commonly known in this section of New York state, Dr. George A. Marsden, city health officer, Saturday advised the Palladium-Times, which has received a number of calls from parents who have been worried about a possible spread of the disease, which is prevalent in some sections.

Common sense rules should be followed in the prevention of polio, Dr. Marsden pointed out.

In the first place, he warned parents not to give way to hysteria in the event their children should show some symptoms which might be thought to be leading to an onset of the disease.

Rules which should be followed in the care of children are as follows:

1. Avoid fatigue.
2. Notify the family physician on any sign of headache, diarrhea, stiffness in limbs, temperature.
3. Avoid overcrowding and presence of large groups.
4. See that children get plenty of rest, good food and fresh air.

In response to a question raised by several parents, Dr. Marsden said there is no danger of contracting polio through swimming, providing the water is not contaminated.
